the cocktail hour

Erica and Oliver made custom cocktail napkins that listed little pieces of info about them.

the ceremony

The couple said their vows outside beneath a rustic huppah of birch branches and flowers.

the ceremony décor

Flower-filled, green-painted pails hung from the chairs along the ceremony aisle.

THE BRIDE Erica Nuber, 27, an account specialist at iProspect

THE GROOM Oliver Haydock, 28, a teacher at Edward W. Brooke Charter School

HOW THEY MET At Occidental College in Los Angeles

HOW LONG ENGAGED 1 year

THEIR WEDDING STYLE Erica and Oliver wanted to let the scenery speak for itself, so they planned a casual yet elegant party. A natural color palette and details like sea glass chargers and wooden signs brought it to life. —AB

the bridal bouquet

Erica carried a bouquet of peach and bright-pink garden roses, lisianthus, hypericum berries and dahlias.

the reception

Guests sat at long banquet tables set up on the lawn beneath a sailcloth tent.

the escort cards

Simple tented escort cards were set into the slats of green antique shutters.

the first dance

Oliver was excited to choose the first dance song, so Erica left it up to him. He went with Eric Clapton's "Wonderful Tonight."

the details

Wooden signs and ribbons were posted around the property to guide guests to designated party areas.

the reception

When the sun set, string lights lining the tent set a romantic vibe.

the cake

Elegant piping details added a delicate touch to the white and peach cake.

the bridal party looks

The bridesmaids and groomsmen coordinated in green dresses and printed ties. Gray suits fit the day's laid-back vibe.

the reception décor

The newlyweds' chairs were marked with roses, orchids, ribbon and big banana leaves.
